

Colonel Greg Thompson

United States Air Force (Retired)

Biography:

Colonel (Ret.) Greg Thompson holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration and a Juris Doctorate degree from the University of Arizona in Tucson, Arizona. Additionally, he holds a Master's degree in Operational Art from Air University, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama.

Colonel Thompson graduated from law school in 1999 and began working as a law clerk and bailiff for the Honorable John E. Davis at Pima County Superior Court in Tucson, Arizona. During this time, Judge Davis presided over Criminal and Juvenile cases. After one year in the position, he was hired as a Pima County Attorney.

During his time as a prosecutor for the Pima County Attorney's Office he tried approximately 50 jury trials to include felonies and misdemeanors focusing on vehicular offenses. In 2003, Colonel Thompson entered the United States Air Force where he served for 20 years in the Judge Advocate General's Corps.

During his service in the Air Force, he prosecuted and defended Airman at military courts-martial proceedings; led a legal office as the Staff Judge Advocate (general counsel) for the installation at Whiteman Air Force Base, Missouri; served two overseas tours, at Al Udeid Air Base, Qatar and Kandahar Airfield, Afghanistan; and served as a national security lawyer at both U.S. Pacific Command and Pacific Air Forces for six years in Hawaii.

Additionally, Colonel Thompson served as an Assistant Professor at the United States Air Force Academy for three years. His expertise lies in the areas of criminal justice and national security law.