_____	_____	I have attended the CCP informational meeting or reviewed the presentation.
_____	_____	I understand that I must take English, math, and LCA Bible every semester and that at least 4 classes must be on-campus LCA classes.
_____	_____	I understand that LCA has a closed campus, and I must remain on campus unless taking a CCP class in-person on the college campus. Any off-campus exception must be approved by the Academic Affairs Committee.
_____	_____	I understand that the worldview of the college or university may not line up with that of LCA or my family, and courses may contain mature or objectionable content even at a Christian institution.
_____	_____	I understand that parents will not be contacted by the college or university if they are performing poorly. The student is solely responsible for their success or failure in their college classes.
_____	_____	I understand that doing poorly in my college classes will negatively affect my HS and potentially my future college GPAs and can even jeopardize meeting HS graduation requirements and future college admissions/scholarships. If interested in college sports, I understand it is my responsibility to know how CCP participation may affect NCAA or NAIA eligibility.
_____	_____	I understand that if I fail a CCP funded course, or do not drop it by the posted deadline, I may be required to pay for the course. I am responsible for knowing all important dates and deadlines.
_____	_____	I understand that not all credits earned as a CCP student may transfer to the college of my choice.
_____	_____	I understand that I must communicate textbook needs to Mr. Bryant as early as possible. LCA only purchases required textbooks for classes that are CCP funded. Do not purchase books on your own. LCA does not reimburse. All non-consumable textbooks must be returned to LCA upon course completion.
_____	_____	I understand that courses taken at a non-Christian college or university will require a biblical / Christian worldview integration paper. See the back of this page for the complete policy and requirements.

Non-Christian College or University Dual Credit: Since biblical and Christian worldview curricular integration is a distinctive LCA value, LCA does not encourage students to take dual credit courses from non-Christian colleges or universities. This position should not be interpreted as deriding the academic quality of non-Christian institutions, nor should it be interpreted as discouragement from considering non-Christian institutions for post-secondary education. Rather, it is a natural outworking of LCA's deeply held Christian educational philosophy as it applies to current students. In accordance with this LCA value, for each dual credit course taken from a non-Christian college or university, LCA students must write a 3-4 page academic research paper relating a biblical and Christian worldview to the content of each dual credit course (MLA format, 12 pt Times New Roman font, citing at least three academic sources that approach the content from a biblical worldview). The paper should have the following outline, with each section approximately one page: (a) a biblical worldview of the core course content area, (b) areas or examples where the course aligned with a biblical worldview, and (c) areas or examples where the course did not align with a biblical worldview. The LCA library holds resources that are integrated with biblical and Christian worldview related to common dual credit courses taken by LCA students. Completed papers should be turned in to the guidance office by the last day of the LCA semester in which the college course is taken. If a student takes a dual credit course in the summer, the paper is due before the first day of school the following semester. Papers will be reviewed by the Credit Flexibility Committee and assigned a pass or fail. A pass will result in a "Worldview Integration – Course Title" course grade (P) on the student's transcript. If a student receives a failing grade from the Credit Flexibility Committee, the student will be allowed to rewrite the paper following a conference with the guidance office. A passing grade (P) in "Worldview Integration – Course Title" for each dual credit course taken at a non-Christian institution is an LCA graduation requirement. LCA does not limit which courses may be taken for dual credit at a non-Christian institution, but a worldview integration paper, as described above, is required for each course as a separate graduation requirement. [Note: This policy was implemented in Summer of 2023 and applies to all dual credit coursework taken at non-Christian colleges or universities Summer 2023 and beyond. There is no worldview integration requirement for dual credit courses taken at non-Christian institutions Spring 2023 and prior.]
